REAL ESTATE.—Last week Mr. Geo. B. Markle, of Portland, purchased the Eddings corner on Main street, in this city, paying therefor $15,500, a little over $150 per front foot. Vancouver property advances slowly and steadily on the sure upward road of prosperity.

An exchange paper gives this sensible advice: Give peddlers the cold shake. Their interests are of no concern to you. They take money out and leave none. They have no business reputation to sustain and are more likely to skin you than not. There is absolutely not one single advantage in buying from a peddler, therefore give the itinerant the shake. There is not an article they sell that cannot be bought as cheaply of the dealers in your own town, who pay taxes and help to build it up, while the peddler does nothing for us. Trade with the merchants and let the peddlers go.

Vancouver is to have a first class hotel, that would be credit to a larger city. It will be built of brick at the corner of Main and 3d streets, by O. M. Hidden and associates. The building will be 4 stories high, 100 feet front on each street. The work on the foundations will be commenced as soon as the excavation of the lots can be completed, and bricklaying will probably commence inside of 30 days. The building will cost about $60,000. The Portland Oregonian says that larch lumber, after a thorough trial is found to be most excellent material for doors, etc. It works well, takes a beautiful finish, and has a bright, and clean appearance and is much stronger and not so soft as the cedar it is supplying the place of. As cedar lumber is growing scarce and dear, the larch, of which there are large and magnificent groves in various parts of the state, is likely to come into general use in its place, and the supply is not likely to be soon exhausted.

Done in the city of Olympia this 8th day of November, A. D., 1889; of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and fourteenth.

MILES C. MOORE.
By the Governor:
O. C. WHITE, Sec. of Territory.

Last Wednesday at Spokane Falls Frank Sylva, a gambler, was shot and killed by Tom Eldridge, another of the fraternity, in front of the Kentucky saloon. Paul Booster was also shot in the arm. The men were partners, and not being able to agree on the division of profits, came to hard words, culminating in the tragedy. The murderer is held in $500 bail to await trial.

The fall rains with mild weather following, have greatly improved the stock ranges east of the mountains, and now there is a better chance for stock than it was supposed there would be earlier in the season. A hard winter would still be severe on the herds.

The Olympia Parian has changed hands. A joint stock company will hereafter publish it, with O. C. White as general manager. It will be a republican morning daily. T. H. Cavanagh will be missed by the fraternity.

In some of the counties of North Dakota there is distress among farmers, because of the failure of crops, which will cause many individual cases of suffering this winter. The state will give relief.

Over 1000 men are now at work on the Astoria and South Coast Railroad, and they want 1000 more men. The work will be pushed all winter with full vigor.

Vancouver and Yakima Railroad.

Yakima Herald.

An advance courier from the large corps of railroad engineers who have been working up Lewis river, headed for North Yakima, was in the city Tuesday. He reports that the surveyors are now over the divide and "tied" on to the line run up from this side during the season, and that all the grades are light. One hundred and four feet to the mile for about 8 miles is the heaviest grade on the whole route. The road as surveyed runs through a very valuable agricultural country, and in the mountains the virgin timber and the undeveloped mineral resources will alone give great wealth to the company building this line of road. It is given out that construction work on the road from North Yakima westward will begin by early spring, and that the road from this point to the Columbia will be in progress of construction as soon as the snowbirds leave.

Miss Flora Harallton, aged 22, daughter of E. P. Hamilton, died of consumption, in this city, last Wednesday morning, after an illness of several weeks duration. She was a very estimable young lady, and her early death causes many a heart pang outside of the family circle. The ways of providence are past finding out, and one of the greatest puzzles of life is to solve the problem of why the young and beautiful should thus be early stricken down. Mr. Hamilton's afflicted family has the greatest sympathy of the community.

Excelsior Lodge, I. O. G. T. passed the following resolutions:

Whereas, in view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our friend and sister, Flora Hamilton, and of the still heavier loss sustained by those nearest and dearest to her; therefore, be it

Resolved, It is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed, to say that in regretting her removal from midst, we mourn for one, in every way, worthy of our respect and regard.

Resolved, That we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased on the dispensation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict them, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best.

Resolved, That the charter and badges of this lodge be draped in mourning for 30 days, and that these resolutions be forwarded to the city papers for publication, and that a copy be sent the family of the deceased.

The Oregonian's Olympia correspondent sketches our member of the legislature as follows:

L. B. Clough, the senator from Vancouver, Clarke Co., has one of the finest fruit farms in that county, near the Columbia river and is an extensive fruit grower, dryer and packer. He was born in Waterbury, Vermont, on the 12th of May, 1830. His father was a farmer and Mr. Clough followed that occupation until he came to Washington in the spring of 1877 and located near Vancouver, where he has successfully raised fruit ever since. Mr. Clough was satisfied on coming to that part of the Territory that fruit raising was going to be a great industry. He bought land, dug the stumps and roots and set out the largest prune orchard in the Territory. He was one of the first to go into the business on a large scale in the Pacific Northwest and has made it pay handsomely, was elected sheriff of Clarke county in the fall of 1884, held the office two years, elected representative from Clarke county in the fall of 1888, the legislature not assembling, and was elected senator by a good majority. Mr. Clough is a bachelor. His name is pronounced Cluff.

One of the representatives of Clarke county, S. S. Cook, is a thorough-going stone mason, and has been working at his trade for some months in Seattle. He lives in Vancouver, has been in the Territory ten years. He was born in Oregon thirty-five years ago.

John D. Geoghegan (pronounced Gaygen) of Clarke county, is a veteran of the late war, and was once a prisoner at Andersonville. He is a solid looking man, with full beard, and is well liked by all who know him. He was born in Galway, Ireland, about 46 years ago, came to this country in 1846, attended public school in New York City, enlisted at St. Paul, Minn., April 1862; served through the war and was commissioned in the regular army in 1868. He resigned in the fall of 1869, came to this coast in 1872, and served through the Modoc and Nez Perce Indian campaigns. He went to Vancouver in 1879, and has resided there since. He is in the flour, feed and grocery trade, is married and has four children.

Anos F. Shaw, was born January 14th, 1839, in the town of Franklin, N. H., brought up on a farm until 1859, emigrated to the then unorganized Territory of Dakota, was elected a member of the provincial legislature that met at Sioux Falls, Dakota, in the winter of '59-'60. In January 1862 enlisted in Co. A, Dakota Volunteer Cavalry, served three and a half years. Was sheriff of Clay County Dakota, from '68 to '69. Served as secretary for Territorial council, session 1869, as member of the house of representatives, sessions 1871 and '73, and council session '81. Came to Vancouver in the fall of '81 bought and cleared land, and planted a prune orchard. Remained till the spring of 1884 when business interests called him to Sioux Falls, Dakota. Was appointed warden of the Dakota penitentiary, at Sioux Falls in the spring of 1885. Served two years, was removed under the Cleveland administration as an "offensive partisan." Returned to Vancouver in July 1887, is senior member of Shaw Bros. prune growers and packers. Is one of the representatives of Clarke county.

State of Washington.

On Monday President Harrison issued his proclamation, admitting Washington as the forty-second state in the Union. Gov. Ferry will be inaugurated on Monday next, when the state government will go into full possession and effect.

The legislature, which assembled last week, has been fully organized and under the general law elects U. S. Senators on Tuesday, Nov. 18th. Statehood brings to our people much satisfaction. The enthusiasm over the event is not great, the people having been disappointed by so many delays in the admission, not excepting Gov. Moore's blunders, a state of mind not encouraging to those who are responsible for them. However, there will no doubt be a joyful celebration of the event in the near future.

A party of prominent Eastern railroad men, all representatives of the Vanderbilt system, arrived in Portland by a special train Sunday afternoon. They were met at Hood River by Messrs. A. L. Maxwell, of the O. R. & N., and C. C. Crane, local representative of the Vanderbilt system. The party consisted of George H. Daniels, general passenger agent of the New York & Hudson River railroad, N. B. Jerome, general Western passenger agent of the same road, and R. M. Case, private secretary to Mr. Daniels, C. K. Wilber, Western passenger agent of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad, O. W. Ruggles and P. P. Murray, general and Western passenger agents of the Michigan Central railroad, and William S. Baldwin, Pacific coast agent of the system, with headquarters at San Francisco. The party frequently gave vent to expressions of surprise at beholding so beautiful a country inclosing so magnificent a city as Portland.

Montana was admitted as a state on Friday last. This lets out the democratic supreme court of the Territory, which was endeavoring to seat five illegally elected democrats in the legislature. The contest will go out of the courts, to be disposed of by the legislature. The certificates for the five disputed seats are held by the republicans from the state canvassing board. The democrats hold court certificates.

The usual returns come in from Kentucky and other parts of the south, of daily fights in which the racy pistol settles some feud, but last week there was a variation by way of a fight to the death between two republican politicians at Lexington, Kentucky. That state is noted for blooded stock, and blood will tell, every time.

The snow storm and blizzard that raged in New Mexico, Texas and Colorado lasted over a week. About twenty herders perished in the snow and cold, and the losses of sheep and cattle are counted by the thousands. The railroads also suffered heavy losses. It was the worst storm ever known in that section.

Sunol, a California three year old mare, last Saturday trotted a mile in 2:10, beating the 2 year old stallion record of Axtell, which was 2:12. This feat puts California bred horses ahead of Kentucky. Axtell was sold for $105,000. The mare has not yet been priced.
